

Quality, Safety & Environment Policy Statement

It is the policy of Gaffney Electrical Services Pty Ltd to provide a quality product and service in the process of ; Design, Project Management, Installation , Testing and Maintenance of Electrical and Communications Services.

Objectively, the company is to supply products and services that are fit for use and have the desired quality and safety in accordance with client's specifications and requirements.

The organisation is totally committed to implementing and maintaining a management system based on AS/NZS ISO9001 and AS/NZS45001 standards where risk management is based on AS/NZS31000.

National Code of Practice and Industry Guidelines in line with AS3000 make up the required strategy for placement in both services and implementation during procurement of work/project placement.

A commitment has been established by Gaffney's to measure objectives and targets to ensure continued improvement at eliminating work-related injury and illness.

Every individual is responsibility for the health and safety of persons under their control and will be held accountable for controlling all hazards within their area of management.

The company's environmental system is a practical and responsible method for the reduction of pollution that is adaptable for the individual project/work needs where all employees are adequately trained with continual awareness and competence that will assure all respective requirements.

Quality, Safety and Environmental management control is part of a continual mind set in every area of the organisation that becomes the focus of procurement in day to day activity.

Prevention of deficiencies is one of the organisations objective targets where the goal of "right first time" with commitment for continual improvement of the management system.

The organisation is committed to consult and ensure that all worker participate in the operations of the safety management system.

Our priority of safety to all our personnel; minimise any environmental impact and deliver a quality and optimum product to all our cliental.

This policy is available to interested parties generally on our website and specifically when requested.

John Gaffney
Director

GAFFNEY ELECTRICAL SERVICES PTY LTD

The above is an integrated policy statement for; Quality, Safety and Environment